GRRR-R-R or BRRR-R-R — Icicles, like transparent incisors, hang from the frigid front of this automobile. It was winter for a while earlier in the week. And a lot of ice has melted from trees, which suffered heavy damage in Cameron, powerlines and cars. All went with a typical-Texas, January thaw.

AGRI-RELATED BUSINESSES ON TOUR LIST

The second in a series of tours to local and area agri-related businesses will be Tuesday, January 16. The Chamber of Commerce sponsored tour will begin at the Chamber office at 8:50 a.m. and will include stops at Ideal Poultry Breeding Farms, Inc. (downtown), Cameron Compress, Mack's Fertilizer Plant, and Cameron Machine Shop.

The tour is scheduled to end at 11 a.m.

Henry Litzman chairman of the Chamber Agriculture Committee, said the tour was open to the public and was instigated to provide a closer relationship and understanding of our agri-related businesses' affect on the local economy. Thirty-five businessmen and individuals attended the first tour in July.

Anyone planning to attend the tour should call the Chamber office so that plans for transportation can be made.

Schools Report Lower Sick List

Central Texans continue to shiver although a slight warming trend melted ice that had formed Monday and Monday night from a steady rain that measured 1.53 inches in Cameron.

Telephone and electric power lines broke in the Cameron area under the weight of ice and fallen tree limbs Monday night and early Tuesday, however most service was restored by late Tuesday morning.

Maysfield School closed Tuesday due to illness and icy roads and will remain closed until Monday. Cameron schools closed early on Monday, however regular class schedules were resumed Tuesday.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said they had considered closing the Cameron schools Thursday and Friday because of a high percentage of sickness, however local doctors advised that the rash of illness since the holidays was on the decline. Dodson said doctors noted that most of the illness in school children was due to respiratory infection and the cases of flu were principally confined to adults .11.4 percent of the student body were reported absent Wednesday.

Long distance lines between Cameron and Temple were cut off Monday night with 15 breaks caused by heavy ice. C. L. Carson, district manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone, said about 100 rural phones were also out of service Tuesday after 20 rural lines had broken during the early morning hours.

Texas Power & Light Co. reported 5 power lines down in the Cameron service area early Tuesday morning.

The rainfall and melting ice swelled Little River by Wednesday noon when the river measured 21 feet.

CITY HEARS AIRPARK RULE, LIGHT REPORT

The City Council Tuesday night in an hour session heard first reading on an ordinance authorizing a Joint Airport Zoning Board and heard a report on a "whiteway system" of highway lights.

Mayor Bassel Wilson said Texas Power & Light Co. has approved modern vapor lights on US 36 from East to West City Limits and from Fourth and Fannin intersection on US 77 to North City Limits. The Company will install the lights.

He said the starting date is to be given this month.

Wilson also said abstract and legal work have been completed and turned over to Texas Securities Corp., San Antonio, for resident contact work.

Storm sewer work on Sixth Street, going east from North Crockett, is scheduled to begin in January.

The Council also heard a letter from State Comptroller Robert Calvert advising that beginning April 1, businesses under the state or city sales tax will collect a total of 3 percent for state-city sales tax in Cameron on items under the tax.

City Works Supt. J. B. Earle was authorized to have the city grader motor overhauled for not over $500.

Councilmen also authorized calling of bids for a new front-end loader and a new garbage truck and packer unit.

Repairs are underway on the second police car unit, which is being done by Krenek Garage, low bidder on the proposed work, Mayor Wilson said.

The joint airpark zoning board will include two appointees by the City, two appointees by the County, and the four are to select a fifth member who is to be the chairman. The ordinance must have a second reading before going into effect.

Work on the storm sewer in Oak Hill Cemetery has been completed, Earle reported.

Bloodmobile Unit Coming January 19

The Central Texas Bloodmobile will be in Cameron Friday, January 19 ,at Methodist Fellowship Hall. Donors will receive a physical checkup and a card listing their blood type.

In 1966 the Cameron area was among 1,700 Red Cross centers where a total of 2,979,100 units of blood were donated.

HERALD RUNS CERTIFICATE . . .

Hill Urges Vote Signup

This week marked the opening of a statewide newspaper campaign organized by Secretary of State John L. Hill to promote voter registration in Texas. One feature of the registration drive is the publication of an application form which voters may cut out and mail to the county tax assessor - collector, who acts as the registrar of voters. The form is printed inside this week's paper, and publication will be repeated each week during January. The deadline for registration is January 31.

Hill has organized the registration drive in his capacity as chief election officer of the state, a title which the Texas legislature conferred on the Secretary of State last year, along with placing upon him important new responsibilities in the administration of the state's election laws. In commenting on the drive, Hill said that one of his purposes is to publicize new laws afecting voting rights, which otherwise might go unnoticed by the average citizen.

One of the new laws enacted in 1967 makes registration necessary, for the first time in Texas history, for persons over 60 years old who live in rural communities and towns under ten thousand population. Heretofore, persons over if they lived in a city having more 60 were required to register only than ten thousand inhabitants.

Many tax assessor - collectors have expressed a fear that lack of information concerning this new requirement will bring about disfranchisement of many elderly voters through their failure to register.

In order to vote in statewide elections, a person must meet the following qualifications on the day of the election: he must be over 21 years old and must be a citizen of the United States; he must have resided in Texas for one year immediately preceding the election; and he must have registered for the voting year in which the election is held. In order to vote in local elections (county, school district, etc.), he must also have resided in the county for six months immediately preceding the election. Residence in the city for six months is required for voting in a city election.

A new law enacted in 1967 permits voters who move from one Texas county to another within the period of six months preceding an election to vote on statewide offices and issues if they have lived in the state for a year.

Texas voters must register annually. The 1968 voting year will begin on March 1, 1968, and will end on February 28, 1969. The registration period for the 1968 voting year began last October 1 and will end on January 31, 1968. Any citizen of Texas who now possesses the necessary qualifications for voting or who will attain them by February 28, 1969, may register during the current registration period.

Junior Livestock Show Saturday

The show will be held in the Cotton Compress building across from the Mobil Oil Co. warehouse and will begin at 9 a.m. Entries are expected from young livestock growers in Buckholts, Milano, Thorndale, Rockdale and Cameron.

Byron Wise, show committee chairman, said the exhibitors, who are 4-H and FFA members, will register in four divisions: Beef, Dairy, Swine and Sheep.

Prizes and ribbons will be awarded to all entries and scoring will be by the Danish system. The two best animals in each class are grand and reserve champions and other animals are graded on a point system according to their quality.

Some of the finest animals grown in the state are shown in the popular Milam County Junior Livestock Show each year. Many of the local exhibitors will go on to show in Taylor, San Antonio and Houston. The local show has been credited with an unusually strong interest in livestock growing among Milam County 4-H and FFA members.

Working with the show this year will be Byron Wise, general superintendent; Ed Laywell, sheep and dairy supt:; Clifford Angell, beef supt.; Henry Richter and Gene Hillman, swine supts.; Reeves Brown, commercial steer and records supt. and Dana Monroe, financial supt.

Tickets for a butcher calf, a butcher hog and a special prize to be given away at the Livestock Show are on sale from 4-H and FFA members or through the County Agent's office. Proceeds from the ticket sale are used to finance the annual show.

Joe Walzel, Ag teacher from Caldwell, will judge the Dairy and Beef divisions; Swine and Sheep classes will be judged by members of the Texas A&M University Livestock Judging Team.

GUARD UNIT GOES AIRBORNE JANUARY 15

Milam County's National Guard Unit, Company C, Third Battalion, 112th Armor, of Cameron, becomes the First Rifle Platoon, Company B, Third Battalion (Airborne) 143rd Infantry effective January 15.

This will make the third time the local unit has been reorganized. In 1949 it was reorganized as Battery C 649th Antiaircraft Artillery Automatic Weapons Battalion and assigned to the 49th Armored Division. In March, 1959 the unit became an Armor Company to this date.

Captain Joe C. Willingham, unit commander, will be reassigned to Headquarters 3d Battalion (Airborne) 143d Infantry located in Waco January 15.

First Lieutenant James M. Spiers will become the new Armory Commander and Platoon leader of the Rifle Platoon. Lieutenant Spiers resides in College Station, and is presently a member of the unit.

Sergeant Joe L. Vybiral told The Herald members of the unit that volunteer for Airborne training will go to Ft. Benning, Ga. for three weeks of Airborne training July 14 - August 4. Those members that do not volunteer will attend summer camp at Ft. Hood July 14-28. No personnel losses are expected, besides Captain Willingham.

While an armor company, the Unit was mobilized in 1961 and stationed on active duty for ten months at Ft. Polk, La. While at Ft. Polk, the Cameron unit was one of the highest rated Armor Companies in the 49th Armored Division. Since then it has received an over-all rating of Superior for training years 1965, 1966 and 1967.

CEDAR STRIPPED — This 70-year-old cedar, located at the Horstmann residence, 1306 North Houston, is lightened of most of its lower branches. The tree was typical of conifers and perrenials which caught so much frozen water and collapsed, large limbs and all, under the weight. The City blocked off Crockett Street in the 500 block Tuesday to clear fallen limbs from old trees there.

3 Area Farms, Ranches Start SCS Projects

Bob H. Nabours, whose farm is located near Hanover, recently became a cooperator with the Taylor Soil Conservation District. Nabours plans to develop permanent pasture on the entire place. He has about ten acres of coastal Bermudagrass on his farm now and plans to clear the brush and develop additional coastal Bermuda pastures. He will develop water for each of his pastures.

Dan S. Chadbourne is another new cooperator with the Taylor Soil Conservation District. Chadbourne will use this place strictly for grazing. His base grass will be coastal Bermudagrass. This farm is located near Gause.

Dr. James E. Cary is in the process of developing a complete conservation plan on his ranch near Milano. His plans are for a strictly livestock operation. This ranch will be divided into approximately 12 pastures and a permanent improved grass established in each. A little brush and timber will be left in each pasture in order to provide protection for the livestock.

Some of those in the Central Texas Soil Conservation District who have recently revised their conservation plans are A. H. Hightower, R. B. Eichenhorst and Myrtle Miller.

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

I have had a number of people tell me that they keep up with our children reading this column. Here is the latest on our two. Our little daughter, Kelly, cut her two bottom front teeth during the holidays. She got only one for Christmas, but the other one was in before the new year.

The week after Christmas Craig was doing something he shouldn't have been doing (as usual) and I told him if he didn't behave he was going to get in trouble -- His reply was, "Santa Claus has already come."

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Alexander and Margie Nan spent Saturday in Houston with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glenn Alexander and got acquainted with their two-week-old grandson and nephew, Joel Glenn.

Construction has started on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Willard.

Mrs. Bob Garrison returned home from John Sealy Hospital in Galveston Friday, where she had a medical check-up. The doctors put her on nitroglycerin pills for heart pain.

CC Bulldogs Take Varsity, B Team In Tight Games

The Cameron Yoemen fell to the Copperas Cove Bulldogs in varsity and B games. The varsity Yoe squad made a brilliant fourth quarter rally but lost by a 75-65 score.

The Yoe B teamers tied up their game, but after an overtime the score stood at 52-48, Doggies favor.

In varsity play, the Yoemen dropped behind from the start as the first quarter score was 16-8. At halftime the Doggies had enlarged the lead to 40-22. By the finish of the third quarter, catching up seemed hopeless to the Cameron courtiers. But a brilliant flash of team coordination paid off in a near-victory, with a final score of 75-65.

Team honors go to the free throw tally of the Yoemen. Yoe roundballers sank 85 percent of their free shots a high percentage in anyone's book. The low total of 20 fouls is another laurel to be handed to the Yoe team.

Individual scoring was led by Wayne Kirk and Tommy Terrell. Other Yoe net shakers were Glenn Fogle, Dennis Chapman, Charles Maddox and Jim Lafferty.

B TEAM PLAY

In B team competition, the Yoemen came through with top effort, but couldn't quite pull off the victory.

The Cameron squad had a pretty fair night as to free throws, sinking 52 percent of their free shots. In the foul department, the Cameron B stringers tabulated 22 at a team total.

In individual scoring, Robert Brashear led with a total of 16, Johnny Steamer 15, Sammy White 12. Other Yoemen to hit the basket were Dennis Crouch and Norman Trubee 2 each, and Jerry Richardson 1.

The lead was traded back and forth throughout the game as the Yoemen kept the Cove squad jumping. First quarter play left the score at 16-10 Cove's favor. Half time found the score at 29-24, Yoe's favor.

The Yoemen fought off the Doggie attack during the third quarter, and went into the final period with a 40-35 lead. But Cove's squad battled up to tie the B Yoemen with a fourth quarter score of 48-48. After one overtime, the Doggies had taken the game with a 52-48 lead.

Keller helped to gain this Cove win as he piled up 21 points for the night. Winsman was the second highest scorer with 12.

Marlin Repeats Victory Over Yoe

The Marlin Bulldogs defeated the Fighting Yoemen for the second time this season on January 2. It was a close race through the first quarter, with the Bulldog lead at 14-13. The second quarter gave Marlin a seven point lead of 30-23 as the boys hit the dressing rooms.

In third period play, the Bulldog lead extended to 42-32, and with a final burst of fire, the visitors shot the score up to 69-42.

Wayne Kirk shone brightly as he eluded Bulldog defenders and sank 15 points to lead individual scoring for the Yoemen. Second highest was Tommy Terrell, with 10.

Other Yoemen scorers were Dennis Chapman and Glenn Fogle with 4 each, Mike Miller, Charles Maddox, Jim Lafferty, and Charles Buchanan2 each, and Al Hefft 1.

Top Doggie scorer was Gregg with 29.

The Yoemen had a pretty good night at the free throw department, sinking 50 of their shots. Another team laurel goes to the Yoemen as to their fairly low number of fouls -- 21.

The Weather . . . .

Temperatures fell just low enough to freeze on the ground, then rose again enough to clear the icy limbs before more broke Tuesday.

There was a limited power failure in one residential part of town. But generally, service facilities held up during the storm, first in several years.

And local police noted few accidents and no major ones on city streets.

It looked out on the scene and saw a limited news week and therein a limited views week.

We can congratulate the weatherman for furnishing us with some real winter, but criticize a bit for his not making it a drawnout storm in the tradition of raw January.

But then that is controversy about an indisputable commodity, the weather, which, like everything else these days, changes, if you wait a while.

What Others Say . . .
Strange Era . . .

We look upon the following statement of Andre Malraux's as one of the shrewdest made during 1967. The French author said, "The historian who will judge our era will say: what a strange era where the left was not the left, where the right was not the right, where the center was not in the middle."

Strange times, indeed. Yet, in their perverse way, heartening times as well. For 1967 was a year when mere party lines, merely ideological training, mere inherited views held less weight than almost ever before.

Many months ago these columns noted what a strange "sea change" the Vietnam war, for example, had made in many persons' positions. Former right - wing isolationists were all for America's continued intervention in Southeast Asia. Former liberal one - worlders were calling upon the United States to pull back in the world, and leave other people alone.

And what happened on Vietnam has happened on a hundred other issues also. In economics, religion, politics the strangest new bedfellows were popping up all over the place. Frankly, we think that there is much good to be found in this. At the very least, it shows a breaking up of hidebound prejudices. At the best, it shows a growing willingness on most persons' part to look at situations with a fresh and less partial eye.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

According to an article I read in a copy of a newspaper last night while two television news casters were taking up time telling what they thought instead of just reporting the news, the economic experts in Washington have mapped out a plan to bolster the American dollar and its relation to the international balance of payments, a matter I do not understand now and which I have no intentions of understanding any time in the future.

One of the points in the plan is to restrict Americans' travels abroad for the next two years.

I can ratify this, in fact any time I get off this Johnson grass farm, except maybe for an occasional trip into Cameron when the traffic is light, I feel uncomfortable and begin to notice a definite dollar drain, but what I'd like to know is what is this going to do to candidates for President?

How can a man run for President if he can't first travel through half a dozen countries to improve his standing as an expert on foreign affairs and get his name in the papers? Everybody knows you can't enter the Presidential Primaries in New Hampshire without first going by Moscow, Paris and South Viet Nam. I never have seen one who thought he ought to come by my farm out here.

And also, the economic experts have argued, if just asking Americans not to travel abroad won't work, a tourist tax should be voted. There'd be a special tax for leaving the country, one for returning.

This sounds like a good idea to me, one of the genuinely new sources of tax revenue thought up in a long time.

After all, if a man is going to be taxed even while staying at home minding his own business, why shouldn't he be taxed also when he's leaving?

This way the government would have money rolling in, coming or going.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

New Airlift Service Offered For Parcels To Military Overseas

Packages up to 30 pounds for American military personnel served by Army and Fleet Post Offices overseas now can be sent by air transportation at special low rates, according to Postmaster Narvie L. Caperton.

"Area residents using this new airlift service will get much faster delivery on parcels to military personnel overseas," the Postmaster said. He said the airlift is available on a space - available basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth kualify for the new special airlift rate.

Postal patrons can get the airlift service on packages mailed to all military personnel at APO and FP O addresses overseas, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The Postmaster noted that the new airlift also applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen from these military post offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is paid get air transportation all the way -- from here to the port of embarkation, and from there to the overseas base.

New License Regulations For Texas Drivers Told

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

New regulations make it necessary for all drivers to renew licenses in person at a Department of Public Safety office.

Each applicant will be photographed and given a standard vision test.

DPS Director Homer Garrison Jr. says that all licenses will be renewed to expire on the birthdate of the holder. Drivers holding licenses ending in an even number will get a new license good for four years. If the license ends in an odd number, it will be renewed initially for two years, and thereafter for four years.

New licenses will be about the size of a standard credit card. About 320 full-time license offices will operate over the state to service renewals.

There are some 5,800,000 licensed drivers in the State and the new requirements will affect some 2,500,000 this year, Colonel Garrison says.

EDUCATION AIMS

Performance, rather than spending or teacher pay, should be the basis of a more efficient school system, So says Glenn U. Ivey, director of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. His views were expressed to public school administrators at their mid-winter conference here.

Among highlights of Ivey's preview of the most far-reaching inquiry into Texas' education needs ever undertaken were:

—To achieve national leadership in education, the state must seek excellence in performance and super-efficiency.

—Favored tax status for rural and suburban districts is a "luxury" the state cannot afford.

—"Unequal education" -- like pre-school training for the non-English speaking and special programs for migrants -- is necessary to offset disadvantages faced by many children.

—Education must be made "more relevant" to potential dropouts. In particular, those with Spanish-language backgrounds. Obstacles to school attendance must be overcome.

ELECTION LAW SEMINAR SET

Officials responsible for conducting elections in Texas will go to school for a day. They will discuss new changes in voting laws.

Leading the discussions will be: Hill; State Democratic Chairman Will D. Davis; GOP State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr.; Mrs. Mary K. Wall of Hills staff; Midland County Clerk Mrs. Rosanelle Cherry; and Dallam County Judge W. D. Henson.

NEW CANDIDATE FILES

Gordon B. McLendon, Dallas radio - television executive true to predictions, jumped into the governor's race by paying his $1,000 filing fee.

In 1965 he ran unsuccessfully for the U. S. Senate. But he received more than 672,500 votes in his close race with Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Secretary of State Hill says he plans to announce soon after the January 18 voting law seminar.

AIR POLLUTION REGULATIONS

Cities of less than 5,000 population face new regulations relative to the burning of garbage and rubbish. New regulations were adopted by the Texas Air Control Board and became effective January 4.

Municipalities are regulated in the new rules, as well as industrial plants, businesses and individuals.

Rules permit burning wastes:

—Outdoors, as long as the burning is outside a defined Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area;

—Outside a municipality;

—Between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Regulations cover emissions of smoke and particulate matter, outdoor burning, sulfur compounds and air pollution from motor vehicles.

Board Chairman Herbert McKee of Houston pointed out that two problems are not regulated by the Board rules -- odor and effects of emissions on visibility. City and county health officials will have to rely on the State's General Nuisance Law to control air polluting odors. Nothing can be done about visibility regulations until a Federal study is complete, says McKee.

However, cities and counties will be able to use the Board's regulations to enforce pollution control of other wastes emitted into the air.

AIRLINES

Latest in a series of applications for licenses to operate intrastate air lines in Texas is that of King Flight Service of Wichita Falls.

King asked the Texas Aeronautics Commission to let it fly four times a day between Wichita Falls and Dallas.

MIXED DRINK TAX APPLIED

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert stirred the ire of some 1,350 private club operators by ruling that as of January 1 their sales of mixed drinks and related services would be subject to state and local sales taxes.

A delegation led by the Texas Restaurant Association called on Calvert urging him to change his mind.

New ruling applies to private social clubs and veteran and fraternal organizations dispensing mixed alcoholic beverages. It covers set-ups, mixes, ice, service charges for mixing and serving -- and even the 15 percent tip most clubs add to the check.

"The entire charges for mixed drinks will be presumed as a part of the taxable gross receipts," Calvert's ruling states.

Blow your horn without lifting a finger.

Only Olds dealers have it. A horn control that extends all the way around the inside of the steering wheel. Think of it. You sound your horn with the simple reflex action of your fingers. You say you wonder what your phone will be like in the year 2000?

By the turn of the century, chances are you won't recognize the familiar telephone. Based on services already in use or on the drawing boards, you can expect some pretty far-out developments.

For example, Picturephone* see-while-you-talk service, already in limited use, might well be offered in full color and three dimensions. With it, you could do the family grocery shopping, look at the new cars, or buy a new hat without leaving the house.

Electronic switching equipment, now in trial use, will call you back when a busy line you have called is free, or transfer your calls to another phone while you're away from home.

Telephones will be free to go where you go. A cordless portable extension phone, complete with dial, is currently undergoing tests.

Money handling will be revolutionized. You won't need to write checks or pay cash for most purchases. A telephone call to your bank's computer will take care of the payment. The same system will automatically pay monthly bills which you authorize and keep track of your bank balance. It might even figure your income tax.

By the year 2000, your telephone will probably be doing many other jobs that now seem unthinkable. But then, television, satellites, computers—even the telephone—were "impossible" 100 years ago.

Looking ahead to keep ahead in communications is one way we try to make your every "hello" a real good buy.

IRS Questions

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Has there been any change in the income tax rates for 1967?

A — No. An individual's income for 1967 is taxed at the same rates in effect the preceding year.

Q — Can anyone use the figures for state gas tax deductions that are given in the 1040 instruction booklet?

A — These figures are provided as a convenience for those taxpayers who deduct state gasoline tax when they itemize deductions. If you are entitled to claim this deduction, then you may use the table instead of doing the calculations yourself.

Q — If my wife and I file separately instead of jointly, can one itemize while the other uses the standard deduction?

A — No. Married couples filing separate returns must handle their expenses the same way. If one itemizes the other must too.

Married couples filing separately must also take the same type of standard deduction. If one takes the minimum standard deduction, they must both take it. Since Texas is a community property state, there is ordinarily no benefit to be derived from filing separately as all community income must be equally divided.

Q —Does the law now require me to file my return with an IRS service center?

A — A new law authroizes the Secretary of Treasury to make such a request for certain 1967 returns. Taxpayers living in the Austin District who OWE tax should file their returns with the District Director of Internal Revenue 300 East Eighth Street, Austin, Texas 78701. Taxpayers who have a REFUND due should mail their tax returns in the special envelope provided, or address them to: Internal Revenue Service Center, Southwest Region, Austin, Texas 78740.

Q — How does the minimum standard deduction work?

A — The deduction amounts to $900 plus $100 for each exemption taken on the return including those for age and blindness.

A married couple with two children as dependents would be entitled to a $600 deduction when this method is used. If the income reported on the return was under $6,000, then this method would be more to the couple's advantage than the standard deduction.

tax benefits for older people is to be able to sell your home at a profit and not be taxed on that money. Is that true?

A — Yes it is if certain conditions are met. You will not have to pay tax on the profit if you were 65 or older before the date of the sale, the adjusted sales price was $20,000 or less, and you owned and occupied the house as your principal residence for at least 5 of the 8 years before the sale.

If you sold the house for over $20,000 and the other conditions are met, then only a portion of the profit will be taxable.

Gain excluded under this provision of law can be elected only once.

This benefit is explained in the booklet, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans," Document No. 5539. For a free copy, drop a post card to your IRS district director.

Local Boy Scout January Program Stresses Fitness

By Bill Storey

Tejas Dist. Boy Scout Exec.

Personal Fitness will be the program theme in January for 17 Boy Scout troops in the Tejas District Boy Scouts of America.

Ten-year-old Webelos Scouts will also be working on requirements for the new Athletic activity badge.

The ten Cub Packs in the district will build den and pack meetings around the theme of Communications. Crafts, trips, and skits will be included in the activities for the month.

George Rogers, District Commissioner explains that the Boy Scouts of America considers physical fitness a major objective of the Scout program. The fitness program calls for scouts to have a medical checkup, physical testing, Scouting activities to improve fitness, and periodic re-testing, he explained.

The highlight event in January for Boy Scouts will be a conservation Good Turn -- a weekend hike or camp-out. Many troops are expected to conduct a winter wildlife count to determine what kinds of animals live in or near the area being surveyed, to find out the relative abundance of these animals within a given area and to compare the use of different types of plant cover by animals.

Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts will also be adding finishing touches to their Boy Scout Week activities in February, Rogers said. Cub Scouts will hold their traditional blue and gold banquets. Boy Scouts will put on troop merit badge shows and courts of honor, and Explorers will hold a variety of celebration events.

White Gloves Off For Girl Cadettes

The Cadette Girl Scout uniform of cool green with white gloves, indicating a self-assured young lady, proved the correct dress for seven Cameron Cadettes Saturday. But the ninth grade girls found white gloves excess during a surprise test of "emergency preparedness".

The Cadette Scouts, all third year members of Troop 314, arrived at Methodist Fellowship Hall about 10 a.m. to participate in a district-wide planning meeting with about 60 Girl Scouts and leaders representing Rockdale, Florence, Taylor, Elgin and Georgetown.

The seven Cameron girls, Connie Ellis, Pat Hollas, Mary Caroline Matula, Cynthia Kreig, JoAnn Owen, Beth Brock and Kathryn Kahler, were handed the following challenge by their troop leaders, Mrs. James Kahler and Mrs. Ed Maire:

"A trainload of 60 teenage girls and adults are descending on Cameron at noon -- hungry, lonesome, and with nothing to do until 1:15 p.m. A roaring blizzard will keep us Fellowship Hall - bound until 2:30 p.m. when they can depart. Some are injured and many are accident-prone.

"You need to plan a hot meal for them, shop for any groceries you need, prepare the meal in the utensils available, and serve it in a gracious manner promptly at 12:30 p.m. The electricity may go of at any minute. Each girl has only 25 cents to contribute toward her expenses.

"Upon their arrival, these strangers need to get acquainted with each other (name tags and ice breaker) before things settle down to the district meeting.

"Between noon arrival and lunch and after the name tags, you need to involve everybody in entertainment. Our meeting will begin at 1:15.

"How do they get home? You need to provide them with several sketch maps showing the way from the Fellowship Hall to the Scout Hut and out of town to Rockdale, Taylor, Elgin, Florence, and Georgetown. In case they need the services of our police, fire department, mayor, show them how to get there.

"Note the box of supplies. Some you can use; others are of absolutely no value. Use every item you need to.

And promptly at 12:30 p.m. the 60 Cameron guests were served a tuna casserole, green beans and iced tea. Name tags were distributed, a game planned and maps drawn. All had been accomplished on a budget of $15 amidst numerous pre-arranged interruptions to give first aid treatment for feigned burns, cuts and shock among the meeting participants.

Extension Economist Sees Rise In Consumer Income This Year

COLLEGE STATION

The economy of the United States can be expected to continue to expand during 1968 and the consumers' disposable income will also continue to rise.

This is part of the "Economic Outlook for 1968" by John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University. He based his outlook on the assumptions that the conflict in Southeast Asia will continue without major escalation, the proposed income tax surcharge will be enacted as evidence of renewed strong economic expansion piles up, and that interest rates will ease off after the first quarter of 1968 as the tax surcharge takes effect.

With these assumptions considered, McHaney says that the consumers' disposable income will rise with advances in output, employment and wage rates. Social security benefits will be raised, and although a tax increase may moderate the rise in disposable income, the consumer will gain in buying power.

Prices can also be expected to rise further with the indicated increases in expenditures for consumer goods, capital outlays and government purchases, McHaney believes.

The total government spending for goods and services continued to rise during 1967 and will probably do so during 1968. The growth in government spending at the state and local levels rose about 12 percent in 1967 and McHaney sees a similar increase in 1968. The federal purchases of goods and services, mainly for defense, also rose in 1967 but the rate of increase slowed through the year and McHaney predicts continued rising but at a slower pace than in 1967.

McHaney says that early surveys of businessmen's capital expenditure plans for 1968 point to an increase of about 5 percent which is a modest one, but reasonable in light of the average utilization rates in manufacturing of less than 85 percent of capacity in 1967.

Demand for housing is growing and can be expected to continue to grow in 1968, but McHaney forecasts limited growth because of tight credit conditions.

MORE MEAT INSPECTORS

USDA has instructed field employees of Consumer and Marketing Service's Compliance and Evaluation Staff to increase efforts to identify meat products that may be subject to seizure or detention under Wholesome Meat Act signed into law on Dec. 15. Inspectors are being hired to expedite implementation of the Act.

A S C S News

This year, 1968, the elected farmer committee system of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will be 32 years old.

Ted Ford is chairman of the Milam ASC County Committee. Members serving with Ford this year are Fritz Doss of Tanglewood, and Hugo Fuchs of Buckholts.

The committee administers action farm programs in the county level, including price support and production adjustment, conservation cost - sharing and others.

Principal commodity programs administered by the local committee are the Agricultural Conservation Program, acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, the upland cotton diversion program, the National Wool program and farm storage facility loans.

Farmer committees were authorized by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933. However, in those early years committeemen were appointed. Since 1936 ASC county and community committeemen have been elected. Congress currently prescribes the election proceudures for ASC committeemen.

Farmers like the committee system. It gives them a local voice in setting yields, establishing allotments, setting up rates of cost-sharing on conservation work and other important policy determinations that protect farmers at the producer level of operation.

The elected committee system constitutes a pipeline for ideas and suggestions for improving farm programs. Farmer elected committeemen act as agents for their neighbors in linking local farmers with the Dept. of Agriculture in Washington.

JOBS IN AGRICULTURE

Every year thousands of jobs that should be filled by people with farm backgrounds go unfilled. Youth not planning on staying on a farm are advised to check into the facts about a career in agribusiness.

Rogers

At recent meetings of the Board of Trustees of the Rogers Public Schools, several matters were approved. The 1967-68 textbook committee is composed of Mrs. Nancy Nabours, Mrs. Captolia Akin, Mrs. Billy Agee, Mrs. Imogene Harbour, Mrs. Addie Ward, Mrs. Ada Jean Cowen, Darwin Schwertner, Donald Godwin, Alex McKee, Mrs. Alta Seay, J. L. Chervenka, and B. F. Harbour, chairman.

Textbooks will be adopted this year in spelling, grades 2 through eight; elementary science, grades one through six; arithmetic, grades seven and eight. In high school the textbooks will be physical science, bookkeeping I and II and Cosmotology (the latter two not being taught here).

The Board approved conducting a pilot program in the elementary school the second semester with The Educational Developmental Laboratories, Inc. of Huntington, NY. in a program called "Listen Look Learn". Darwin Schwertner, principal, will conduct the experiment.

Irrigation is vital to Texas agriculture. Wayne Keese, Extension ag engineer at A&M, calls attention to a growing problem in several important producing areas -- the declining ground water levels. Keese urges producers to give serious consideration to irrigation methods which will conserve the ground water supplies.

County Agent's Notes...

Grain Sorghum Meeting Thurs.

By J. D. Moore

1968 grain sorghum production will be discussed at a county-wide meeting to be held in the District Courtroom (Courthouse) in Cameron Thursday night, January 11, beginning at 7:30.

Ben Spears, grain sorghum specialist and a team from A&M will be on hand to discuss 1968 varieties chemical weed and grass control in grain sorghum and midge control.

With moisture conditions favorable, grain sorghum production prospects are good. All farmers, fertilizer and seed dealers and any others interested are urged to attend. This important meeting is co-sponsored by the Extension Service and the Milam County Farm Bureau.

WINTER GRAZING CROP

Most fertilizer recommendations say top-dress oats for grazing with 30 pounds of nitrogen after the oats have been grazed down. We visited a stockman last week who was concerned about his rye grass and oats' lack of growth. He had top dressed with adequate fertilizer just before Christmas with very little response. Nitrogen response to winter grazing crops is not sufficient to stimulate plant growth when the soil temperature drops below 50 degrees.

Such has been the case since Christmas. Even though response is not expected at the present soil temperatures, stockmen should not hesitate to top-dress winter grazing crops. The fertilizer will stay on the crop until the latter part of February at which time response will be noted.

In some cases where oat crops are heavily grazed, some root dying will occur when much of the above ground growth has been removed.

In this case quite a bit of yellowing will be noticed due to the unbalanced plant growth condition.

New Tax Deposit Forms To Be Used, Says IRS Director

New federal tax deposit forms are to be used by employers and businesses for tax periods beginning in 1968, R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue, announced last week.

These new forms will replace those formerly used for making deposits of withholding and social security taxes, excise taxes, railroad retirement taxes, social security taxes for agricultural employees, and income withheld from nonresident aliens, foreign corporations and tax-free covenant bonds.

A supply of the new federal tax deposit forms will be mailed to employers and business firms needing them, Phinney said. Forms will be pre-printed with identifying information by class of tax and tax period.

Taxpayers will continue to make their deposits with Federal Reserve Banks or authorized depositaries as in the past. However, they will no longer receive validated receipts from the Federal Reserve Bank to attach to their returns when filed with IRS.

Now here's a clock that beats them all . . . Big Ben, himself, watching the passing parade. Somehow, old Ben still manages to keep an eye on things while he's telling the time, and the stories he could tell might fill a book.

With today's atomic clocks, which mark the passage of time by atom vibrations, time now can be measured more accurately than ever before. Yes, we've come a long way since the first clock, which was simply the alternating periods of darkness and daylight.

Just as man has always relied on some satisfactory method of telling the time, so has he always been aware of a hunger within his heart for peace and meaning in life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

PURINA 20% RANGE CHECKERS TOP 41% PROTEIN CAKE

Many cows are fed a 41% protein cottonseed cake. Yet, a Purina Research test showed that cows daily fed 2½ pounds of Purina 20% Range Checkers averaged calves 19 pounds heavier at weaning than cows on 2½ pounds of 41% cottonseed cake.

Cows may not efficiently utilize 41% protein in their diet. It may be costing you extra money to give it to them. Purina Research has proved that a 20% protein ration blended properly with other ingredients can do a better job of helping cows produce strong calves.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Getting Out on Bail

"He's in prison now, being punished," said the Queen to Alice in Through the Looking Glass, "and the trial doesn't even begin till next Wednesday."

It is to prevent such punishment, before guilt has been established, that our system of bail is designed. The accused is given his temporary freedom, after putting up a certain sum of money to guarantee his appearance in court.

Is every accused person entitled to get out on bail?

Almost. Traditionally, the main exception has been in the case of a capital crime when there is strong evidence of guilt. The theory is that anyone facing a possible death penalty would be sorely tempted to jump bail and go into hiding.

But the vast majority of defendants do in fact go free on bail. Those who remain prison usually do so not because they are not entitled to this privilege but because they cannot afford it.

How high should bail be set? The Eighth Amendment to the Constitution requires that it shall not be "excessive." Various factors may determine, in a particular case, how much bail is excessive. For example:

Bail, even though high, was held not excessive in one case, because the accused had already jumped bail three times. Obviously, he could logically be expected to do it again.

But high bail was held excessive in another case, because the accused was charged with just a simple misdemeanor.

What if the man is indigent? reach, forcing him to languish him reach, forcing him to languishin jail solely because of his poverty.

To meet this common problem, reforms have been undertaken in many communities. Generally they eliminate bail altogether for the indigent defendant who, on individual appraisal, seems a good bet to show up in court when he is supposed to.

Does the man have a job? Does he have close family ties? Is he a long-time local resident? With such roots in the community, he is less likely to run away.

If the accused can indeed be turned loose with reasonable safety, society is thereby relieved of the cost of keeping him. More important, society is also relieved of the necessity of confining a person.
